

“Shark Tank” Innovation Funding has been awarded. This follows the first-ever Educational Innovations version of “Shark Tank” held on Thursday, April 14, 2016 at the Sheraton Bloomington. The event was attended by over 150 faculty development leaders, campus academic technology teams, students and staff innovators. After an engaging networking activity, participants moved to hear and watch 22 “pitches” for funding in the following four categories:

- High Impact Practices
- Mentoring & Counseling
- Competency-Based Learning & Analytics
- Simulation & Gamification
