

Discipline-Specific Faculty Learning Communities

with embedded Short Course

Build a community with colleagues in your field of study from across Minnesota State campuses in a 12-week learning community, exploring a topic with a tangible outcome.

What to Expect:

- Receive individual pedagogical support from an equity coach
- Receive .5 RCE (release credit equivalency) compensation
- Participate in weekly, one hour virtual check-ins with your colleagues
- Receive a copy of the book Culturally Responsive Pedagogy and the Brain (Hammond, 2015)
- Explore and discuss an array of evidence-based interventions that can be made within a course to support culturally responsive pedagogy

Intended Outcomes

- Develop an action plan to implement evidence-based interventions in your course to support culturally responsive pedagogy
- Present accomplishments through a celebration showcase or a panel at the upcoming Teach Together Minnesota! event

Visit

MinnState.edu/TeachTogetherMN

- View participating disciplines
- See of upcoming Faculty Learning Communities
- Find links to register

First come, first served

Only 30 participants per discipline!

New opportunities for disciplines will be offered each term through 2023

MINNESOTA STATE

In partnership with

Discipline-Specific Faculty Learning Communities are a component of the Teach Together Minnesota! funding, sponsored in part by the Minnesota Office of Higher Education through the Governor's Emergency Education Relief (GEER) Grant.