NEXTGEN CHANGE READINESS LIAISON

Job IDs: #01139099, #01139128, #01139129

We are excited to announce that we are searching for three Change Readiness Liaisons who are key members of the NextGen Organizational Change Management (OCM) Team. The Minnesota State NextGen Process will create a modern technology landscape to create a seamless student, faculty, and staff experience across our 37 state colleges and universities across Minnesota. As part of the OCM team you will work with members of the Transition Management Teams at institutions to develop and implement action plans for change activities. This includes: understanding the communications channels and teams at institutions and working with them to communicate the Workday roll out, developing relationships across campuses in order to create two way feedback channels to hear from end users, and helping drive adoption across a portfolio of institutions. The Change Readiness Liaison positions are temporary two-year terms during which the selected individuals will take a leave of absence from their current role. This exciting opportunity will allow you to be at the forefront of transforming Minnesota State and our student, faculty, and staff experience.

As a Change Readiness Liaison, you will:

Empower institutions to drive adoption of Workday with their colleagues

Represent institution perspectives in NextGen OCM Project Planning

Collaborate with diverse colleagues across multiple institutions

Learn contemporary Change Management approaches for technology transformation

Contribute to transforming the Minnesota State student, faculty, and staff experience
